seek Australia's #1 job site

Robotic Process Automation (RPA) Developer - Automation Anywhere

Advertiser:
AUP IT Pty Ltd

11 Mar 2020
Sydney, CBD, Inner West & Eastern Suburbs
Full Time
Information & Communication Technology, Developers/Programmers

About the business

Emerging RPA practice poised for explosive growth. National and global team of talented engineers. USP - leading with strategy and focus on business improvement. Strong pipeline of challenging and career defining projects

About the role

- Role calls for an RPA developer to be part of a new business practice

- Role requires the developer to work with Solution Architect and Business Analyst to craft innovative solutions to business process problems

- Primary remit is to develop solutions on Automation Anywhere platform to automate crucial business processes

- The role requires superior communication and stakeholder management skills

- Seasoned developer with business and functional analysis skills preferred

Benefits and perks

- Office located near QVB/Town Hall

- Close to public transport, train, buses and light rail

- very good work life balance

- Company in growth mode and rewards high performing staff with promotions and advancements

- Big focus on training and upskilling

Skills and experience

- Demonstrable experience with Automation Anywhere platform

- Demonstrable experience of working on complex and large deployments

- Key personality trait would be the ability to be assertive and let your voice be heard in a competitive, high performance team environment

- Ability to perform and excel under pressure and competing deadlines

- Ability to learn new technologies and toolsets and demonstrate SME capability

---

The application form will include these questions:

- How much notice are you required to give your current employer?
- How would you rate your English language skills?

Apply for this job